MISSION TO SEAFARERS AND THE COVID-19 CRISIS

The Mission to Seafarers has carefully reviewed the needs of seafarers all of whom have been impacted by COVID-19. Although this continues to be a fast moving and evolving situation, we have identified some key areas where support will continue to be needed for some time to come. We aim to raise £600,000 over seven separate projects, in addition to a General Fund where funds will be allocated where it is most needed.

We recognise that we can use Technology to improve our reach to seafarers, maximising the opportunities in response to that need. We are focusing on mental health and personal wellbeing, building on new advances already made during the COVID-19 crisis.

Technological Solutions: Digital Chaplaincy Listening to seafarers; Seafarers' Happiness Index App; Mifi Units (mobile broadband routers) for onboard communications

Our port-based Chaplaincy and Centre provision is at the heart of our support to seafarers. COVID-19 undermined our ability to deliver that service and we expect to face ongoing issues in the world that emerges from the crisis. To improve our ability to ensure continuity of care, we are working across our ports to improve resilience.

Resilience in Ports: PPE global provision; Minibus adaptations; Seafarer-safe Centres Fund; Advocacy, representing seafarers
